Individual Support for Individual People

Integrate signed up to the Driving up Quality Code in September 2014 because they believe no one should have to live with being abused. Signing up to the code is our commitment to working with others to achieve high standards of support for people with Learning Disabilities.

The Driving up Quality code also fits well with our beliefs and values. We have been providing person centred support for over thirty years in a variety of settings, peoples own tenancies either single or shared, in family homes in college or workplaces or wherever individuals require support.

We believe everyone should have the right to live in the Community of their choice and be fully involved in all decisions about their life.

Support plans are built around each person and we support people on an individual basis recognising each person's individuality, special gifts and strengths.

At Integrate we strive to involve the people we support in decisions made in the organisation and held a stakeholder event to give people their say on the support they receive. This was in order for us to improve the experience of people who use our services.

There will be a stakeholder day held on the 6th May 2015 to involve as many people as possible who have links to Integrate to develop our Action Plan for the Driving up Quality Code.

Following this event our Ordinary Lives group will develop and action plan to address any issues highlighted from our Stakeholder Event.

This will then be followed up by a further Stakeholder Day in 2016.
